SOCIETY OF CONSTRUCTION LAW HONG KONG

Hong Kong's premier professional body for the promotion of education, study and research in the field of construction law and related subjects (including ADR, arbitration and adjudication).

WHAT DOES SCLHK DO?

- It holds frequent meetings, lectures and social events
- It publishes papers presented to the Society, that are issued free to all members and attendees
- It organises an annual one-day conference on construction law
- It cooperates and holds joint events with other professional organisations in Hong Kong and the region
- It generally promotes interest in construction law
- The SCLHK is a registered Charity and within this remit provides sponsorship to several Hong Kong universities for students undertaking studies related to construction law. It is also exploring other charitable purposes

WHY SHOULD YOU JOIN?

- To meet and mix with fellow professionals who are interested and actively involved in the construction industry
- To gain access to SCLHK's regular lectures at member rates, including the annual conference
- To receive a hard copy of every SCLHK paper that is published after the date of joining, at no charge
- To have access to the SCLHK website where papers may be freely downloaded, and to gain reciprocal access to the SCLHK website, where the UK Society's papers may also be downloaded free of charge
- Our events are generally accredited for CPD points by the Law Society of Hong Kong
